COURT EASTERN DISTRICT OF
VIRGINIA ALEXANDRIA DIVISION

EMMANUEL OGEBE,

Plaintiff,

v.

DOW JONES & COMPANY, DREW
HINSHAW, JOE PARKINSON, AND GBENGA AKINGBULE,

Defendants.

Civil No. 1:19-cv-00426-LO-IDD

MOTION FOR EQUITABLE ACCOMMODATIONS IN COVID-19 EXIGENCY

In view of additional exigencies that have further exacerbated Plaintiff's already onerous burden to file court processes, Plaintiff requests reasonable accommodations and reliefs from the court and states as follows:

1. Plaintiff has to physically file processes in hardcopy in court unlike Defendants who do so electronically.
2. Defendants have undue advantage being able to file during weekends and after hours while Plaintiff is limited to business hours only.
3. Plaintiff's hectic travel schedule further delimits his ability to physically file documents.
4. The recent declaration of a global corona virus (COVID-19) pandemic further compounds this situation as Plaintiff may be liable to quarantine, flight disruptions and other vicissitudes necessitated by panicky responses thereto.

5. Reasonable accommodation by the court is required to mitigate the impact of these factors:

A. To allow Plaintiff submit processes to the court by e-mail to the clerk of court duly copied to the defendants;

B. To accept processes submitted by regular mail as filed effective the date of the postmark;

C. To count response times for Plaintiff as business days (less weekends).

6. No party will be prejudiced by the granting of these reliefs. Rather, Plaintiff will be prejudiced by the non-grant thereof. Wherefore, Plaintiff respectfully requests that the court enter an Order granting the following reliefs:

A. To allow Plaintiff submit processes to the court by e-mail to the clerk of court duly c copied to the defendants;

B. To accept processes submitted by regular mail as filed effective the date of the postmark;

C. To count response times for Plaintiff as business days only (less weekends.)
